MEC Maloyi honors contractors and handover 1000 units

MEC for Human Settlements Public Safety and Liaison Nono Maloyi will on Wednesday hand over 1000 units of the Sunway presidential project residents who have been staying in informal settlements in Hartbeespoort Madibeng.

The MEC will further hand over 400 units of the community residential units (CRU) project to Boitekong community which is outside Rustenburg. The units are expected to assist greatly migrant workers who have been staying in informal settlements, earning less than R3500 and handover the project to the Rustenburg Local Municipality to generate revenue. The project is also expected to eradicate informal settlements around the Rustenburg area.

On the same day in the evening, the MEC will further honour contractors during the Govan Mbeki awards, who have outshined others within the Human Settlements and construction of RDP houses within the province. The North West province remain the National champion in the Country of the auspicious Awards which was confirmed in the previous financial year. The winners on Wednesday will be expected to represent the province during the National event which is coming soon. These awards are meant to motivate all stakeholders in the Human Settlements development and accelerates delivery. The awards are further set to honour role players in the housing value chain that have committed to partner with government in building sustainable integrated human settlements.
